

Master of Arts in Contemporary Asian and Asian American Studies

Program Highlights

- Seven core courses
- Proseminar in research design and thesis or creative project
- Two year program
- Relevant MA degree for teachers of Chinese, Japanese, and Korean with initial certification

Focus Areas

- Multilingualism and Intercultural Communication
- Asian American and Diaspora Studies
- Korean Humanism—Scholarship available

Student Spotlight: ShuNing Lin

“At Stony Brook, I’ve found a community where I feel welcomed, recognized, and valued. The university has become a true home for me—one where I can grow intellectually and personally.”

Application Deadline

Fall: May 1

Early consideration: February 15

Contact Us

Atsuko Oyama

Graduate Program Director

atsuko.oyama@stonybrook.edu

631-632-4030

📷 @SBU_AAAS

Request Information

Stony Brook University